Introduction

The impact of Covid-19 has been immeasurable and the world continues to operate in an evolving fashion.

Guidance and lessons learnt in countries ahead of the UK are critical when assessing what action to take when reopening your workplace.

How we assist you in planning the reopening of your operations is a challenging task for which there is no precedence. In this document we give suggestions as to which products and services Pressroom Partners can provide to help our customer base as they tackle this process. All items are available on a supply only and supply and installation basis.

Can we wish all our customers the best of luck and our full support in their response and recovery to Covid-19.
